

Teaching on the Run

Exciting Opportunity for Lakes Staff: Join the Teaching on the Run (TOR) Programme!

We are thrilled to offer all staff at Lakes the chance to participate in the highly regarded Teaching on the Run (TOR) Programme—a practical and effective way to enhance your teaching skills with simple, yet powerful tools!

Why Join TOR?

This blended learning programme has been a game-changer for busy clinical professionals, providing practical strategies to make teaching more effective and rewarding. Whether you're teaching in the community, private, public, rural, or remote settings, TOR is designed to fit your needs!

Workshop Topics:

- Planning Learning: Master the art of designing learning activities to achieve specific outcomes for clinical learners.
- Skills Teaching: Learn and practice the 4-step approach to teaching skills effectively.
- Effective Group Teaching: Discover active strategies for teaching small and large groups.
- Clinical Teaching: Develop and practice frameworks for delivering impactful clinical teaching.
- Assessment fundamentals: Differentiate between formative and summative assessments and learn how to apply them.
- Supporting Learners: Gain tools to address challenges and support learners effectively.
- Effective learner Supervision: Explore the components of effective supervision.
- Inter-professional Collaboration: Prepare to work with learners from various professions.
- Communication fundamentals: Get tips on effective communication and cross-cultural communication and bias.
- Advanced communication: Develop assertion skills, manage difficult conversations and potential conflict.

Time commitment for each module:

Online Preparation: 30 minutes to 1 hour

Each Interactive Workshop: 1.5–2 hours

Perfect for uni-professional and multidisciplinary groups, TOR is tailored to suit all experience levels and schedules.
